Scanned Checks Addendum (Optional)

Check scanning allows for the electronic processing of non-commercial checks. This can potentially reduce check deposit fees, reduce trips to the bank, and speed payment entry.

The rates are the same as RPPS rates (see Appendix A) and are combined with RPPS volumes for rate discounts. Scanned check and RPPS rates are different from the ACH and CC rates.

There are no setup or monthly fees. Your monthly volume for the Per-Transaction Fees is calculated using the average monthly transactions of the three (3) months prior to the month in which a transaction is processed.

Cancellation of Scanned Check services can occur at any time, however data retention and return transaction responsibilities remain in place.

This agreement is subject to the same terms and conditions as your primary Trash Billing agreement.

Rules and Responsibilities

 - Epson TM-S1000, Model M236A (single feed) check scanner

- Physical checks must be retained for 2 weeks, then they must be shredded. Checks must be kept in a locked, limited access area until destroyed. This is to allow for the physical check to be deposited in the event that the transaction is returned requiring submittal of paper check.
- Trash Billing will maintain the required image copies of the checks.
- The following items are deemed ineligible (Trash Billing will usually identify these for you):
 1. Checks or shared drafts that contain an Auxiliary On-Us Field in the MICR line
See: <https://www.deluxe.com/miscfiles/pdf/AuxOnUsField.pdf>
 - a. This includes most commercial checks. Commercial Checks are larger than personal checks. Ineligible checks will show numbers to the left of the routing number (often the check number).

Customer Bank Check Automation (RPPS) Addendum (Optional)

Customer Bank Check Automation (RPPS) greatly reduces the number of paper checks you receive from banks when your customers make payments through their online bank services. With RPPS, you receive these payments electronically. RPPS is offered as a part of Trash Billing. Basically, instead of the bank printing a check, the payment information goes through various electronic networks, which we pick up and include along with your web payments. RPPS payments are automatically posted to your customer's account.

There are no setup or monthly fees. Your monthly volume for the Per-Transaction Fees is calculated using the average monthly RPPS & Scanned Check transactions of the three (3) months prior to the month in which a transaction is processed.

Cancellation of RPPS services takes 7-14 business days. Please allow time for this transition to take place if you discontinue using the service.

This agreement is subject to the same terms and conditions as your primary Trash Billing agreement.
